

EEUU difunde imágenes del USS Iwo Jima navegando en aguas del mar Caribe

La Armada de Estados Unidos difundió las primeras imágenes del USS Iwo Jima y sus escoltas navegando en el mar Caribe.

Las fotografías fueron tomadas el pasado 28 de agosto, pero fue este martes cuando se hicieron públicas.

En el material se observa el Grupo Anfibio Listo Iwo Jima (IWO ARG) junto a la 22ª Unidad Expedicionaria de Marines (MEU) con capacidad de Operaciones Especiales.

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) sails in formation while on a regularly scheduled deployment in the U.S. Fourth Fleet area of responsibility with its embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC). U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) sails in formation while on deployment in the fourth fleet area of responsibility. The IWO ARG and embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC) is underway in the Atlantic Ocean during a regularly scheduled deployment. U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) sails in formation while on deployment in the fourth fleet area of responsibility. The IWO ARG and embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC) is underway in the Atlantic Ocean during a regularly scheduled deployment. U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Wasp-class amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima (LHD 7) sails in formation with the Iwo Jima

Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) while on deployment in the fourth fleet area of responsibility. The IWO ARG and embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC) is underway in the Atlantic Ocean during a regularly scheduled deployment. U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Wasp-class amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima (LHD 7) sails in formation with the Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) while on deployment in the fourth fleet area of responsibility. The IWO ARG and embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC) is underway in the Atlantic Ocean during a regularly scheduled deployment. U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

CARIBBEAN SEA (Aug. 28, 2025) The Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group (IWO ARG) sails in formation while on deployment in the fourth fleet area of responsibility. The IWO ARG and embarked 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Special Operations Capable (SOC) is underway in the Atlantic Ocean during a regularly scheduled deployment. U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command/U.S. Fourth Fleet is the trusted maritime partner for Caribbean, Central and South America maritime forces leading to improved unity, security, and stability. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Logan Goins)

Con información de Monitoreamos